SEVENTY-TWO COUNTIES HAVE RE-FUNEHAL DIRECTORS. PORTED TO SECRETARY OF STATE.

> Mount's Plurality for Governor Apt to Reach 24,000-Populists Cast Over 5,000 Votes.

The official returns upon the State and county tickets began to come in to the Secretary of State's office yesterday morning, and seventy-two of the ninety-two countles came in during the day. These returns show that over 5,000 Populists in Indiana voted the Populist ticket, which contained the fusion electors just as did the Democratic ticket. The returns also show that very few of the Democrats who voted for McKinley took the trouble to vote the Democratic State ticket, for Shively falls behind the Bryan ticket to just about the extent of the Populist vote for Wadsworth. Thus while McKinley's plurality falls below 19,000 that of Mount, for Governor, is likely to reach 24,000. The unauthorized use of pasters by which the Democratic candidates for Auditor and Attorney-general were placed upon the Populist ticket causes | + the pluralities of Daily and Ketcham to run behind those of the other State candidates. and about equal with that of Remy, against whom there was an authorized paster. These pasters for Fanning and McNutt were sent out without the authority of the State Election Board, and had the result been close enough to have affected them it is probable that they would have given rise to some interesting litigation.

Popocrats and Republicans alike agree that the McKinley Democrats were a very potent force in the result, though those who voted for Palmer did not cut much figure. The returns at hand do not give the Palmer vote, and it will not be definitely |+ known until the electoral vote is canvassed the fourth Monday in November, but the best information is that it will not exceed 3,000 in the State. This, of course, is no measure of the Democratic sound-money strength. The Popocrats were making such great boasts about carrying Indiana that very few men opposed to Bryanism cared to take any chances of throwing their votes away. Whether the two wings of Democracy will ever get together again is a question that is much discussed. It does not + + + + + + + + + + + look as if they would as long as the fight Thomas Taggart, Mayor of the city; on behalf of the press, by J. G. As to whether they will continue to fuse with the Populists, opinions vary among them, but the majority of them seem to believe that there tials, resolutions, finance, location and is no further necessity of taking into account the Populist organization. CIRCULATION OF GOLD.

City Continues to Feel the Improvement in the Times.

Discovered at Homes of D. P. Wining Since the election of McKinley business continues to pick up in this city. Said Volney T. Malott, president of the Indiana National Bank, yesterday: "Since the election of McKinley there has been a marked improvement in business. The country is now getting back to a healthy condition. which I feel assured will steadily grow with the new era of sound money. Confidence has been restored all over the country, gold is circulating again and industries are picking up. Thursday morning we began to feel the new impetus to business here in the bank. There was more activity and business was more marked on Thursday than it has been for a long time past. The election of McKinley was the best thing that could have happened to the country. Business men all feel the effect. and the people feel it. Of course, prosperity will not come suddenly, but it is growing gradually and steadily. It will take the country some time to recover from the effects of the panic, but it is certainly on the road to good times."

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION.

Plans for Entertaining Delegates a the Conference.

Active preparation is being made for the university extension conference, to be held n this city, on Nov. 20 and 21. In answer to a circular letter sent by the university extension board of directors, a number of prominent people met in the study of S Paul's Church, on Thursday, and appointed committees and made further arrangements for exemplifying the hospitality for which streets for the remainder of the year, At Indianapolis is known. the regular meeting of the Council last The Association of Collegiate Alumnae will serve a buffet luncheon to the delegates up owing to the fact that not enough mem-bers were present to pass it. The ordinance is being prepared at the request of some physicians, who report that the disagreeable noise made by tin horns during the last few weeks has caused sick persons throughout the city much suffering. The police are to be requested to try to stop the use of locusts on bicycles. Many riders use them in place of bells, and thus violate the law. plained that it was a son of Austin who was the member of the arm. Wonderful Buying Overproduction is the curse of the manufacturing world. Some of the large Eastern mills manufactured thousands of dollars worth more goods than the condition of the country warranted. Those stocks must be sold. no matter what they sacrifice, as they must have money to start the spindles and looms for the coming season. Our great purchase of Capes and Jackets made at 40 Cents on the Dollar has packed our store with eager buyers, and before that purchase is half sold we have accepted another offer of the same magnitude. The Cable Knitting Mills of New York have shipped us $4,000 worth of Ladies', Gents' and Children's Underwear, and have asked us to sell the stock, no matter what the sacrifice. Our great Cape and Jacket sale continues, and Monday morning we put the Underwear on sale at the following prices:

A FARMER DISAPPEARS.

City to Pay Off Notes.

George McCain, of Acton, Comes to

The police are searching for George Mc-Cain, a farmer, aged about thirty years, living near Acton, who came to the city yesterday noon and then disappeared. Mc-Cain, having some business here, brought his wife and two children and stopped for a short visit at the home of his father-inlaw, A. Holloway, at 217 East Ohio street. After dinner he went down town to pay off some notes and had in his pockets about $60. He did not return to supper and at midnight had failed to come back. He is man above reproach in his habits and his relatives are of the opinion that he has met foul play. The wife is nearly crazed with anxiety. The matter was reported to the police early in the evening, but no trace of him has been found. He is five feet five inches in height, has dark hair and blue eyes, wore a black coat and vest, striped pants and a black stiff hat.

W. T. Royse Breaks His Leg. W. T. Royse, of No. 200 Olive street, fell. early yesterday morning, in coming down stairs and broke his left leg about six inches above the ankle. Mr. Royse is sixty-five years of age and weighs 285 pounds. On that account the injury will confine him to his home longer than it would a younger or lighter person. The accident was peculiar. Mr. Royse had walked down to what he supposed to be the bottom of the stairs and took another step, expecting to put his foot on the level floor, but he had missed his calculation and there was one more step to go. He fell forward and broke his leg. This occurred just at daybreak.

Used a Meat Cleaver on a Butcher. Christian Scheldtmier, a machinist living it 76 Meek street, got drunk yesterday and went into the meat department at the East market. He met a butcher, with whom he quarreled, and attempted to knock him out with a meat cleaver. The blow struck the butcher on the hand and made a painful wound. Deputy Marketmaster George Wossner arrested Scheldtmier and he was thated at the police station for assault and
